IHDP gives high priority to promoting the participation of young and emerging scholars of the Human Dimensions community, in particular from the developing countries. We cordially invite delegates to support our efforts in this regard with a personal contribution. This funding will be used to award limited travel grants to accepted presenters from developing countries based on scientific merit, regional and gender balance.

Please indicate the amount you wish to provide to the IHDP stipend fund on this page. This contribution is strictly voluntary and not required to complete your registration.
